

Emergenetics International Announces Leadership Changes

Founder Dr. Geil Browning Appoints New Chief Executive Officer

Centennial, Colo.: Emergenetics International, a leading provider of professional development solutions, today announced that Dr. Geil Browning is assuming the new role of Founder and Board Chair. She has appointed Marie Unger to the position of Chief Executive Officer. Unger previously served as President of Emergenetics International and the Student|Teacher Emergenetics Program (STEP) and will assume day-to-day leadership of both companies as well as serve as a member of the Board of Directors.

Dr. Browning founded Emergenetics International in 1985 and had served as its Chief Executive Officer for more than 35 years. “Starting and leading the company for more than three decades is one of the greatest accomplishments of my life,” said Browning. “I’m proud that it has grown into a global success with offices, partners and Associates around the world.”

“I have the utmost confidence in Marie to lead the company forward,” continued Browning. “She is a talented leader who has a tremendous passion for helping people better understand themselves and use self-awareness to transform their relationships at work and at home.”

“I know I speak for everyone in the Emergenetics International family in thanking Geil for her extraordinary leadership, vision and compassion,” said Unger. “I am honored to take on my new role and guide the future growth of the company. I truly believe that we can revolutionize the way people connect with one another.”

Prior to joining the company in 2013, Marie was a teacher, school principal, human resource director and director of elementary education for Douglas County School District (DCSD), the third largest school district in Colorado. She received numerous honors from the State of Colorado, and 5280 Magazine spotlighted her school as one of the Top Elementary programs in the state. While at DCSD, Marie successfully implemented Emergenetics and STEP with educators and district leaders to support teacher development and student achievement.

Marie recently led the conversion of the company’s signature workshops and Associate Certification program to a virtual delivery model to support the many organizations around the world that have shifted to remote work. Companies can access Emergenetics programs online to empower their workforce to reduce miscommunication, sustain productivity and promote engagement, no matter where their team members are working.

About Emergenetics International

Emergenetics International helps organizations boost employee engagement by simplifying relationships and communication in the workplace. The Emergenetics Profile measures seven Attributes to reveal an individual’s inherent strengths. Our experiential workshops and applications increase self-awareness and understanding of others, empowering teams to improve performance, drive employee retention and energize company culture.

Emergenetics International
2 Inverness Drive East, Suite 189
Centennial, CO 80112
303=660-3970